Refund after the enrollment

A.Cases where Tuition fees can be refunded.

If the second-year student applies for withdrawal until the end of the November, we will refund the remaining tuition fees by deducting 20% from the fourth month after the month of the withdrawal application. (Since it takes three months to recruit students to fill the vacancy.)

For example, for the student enrolled in April 2024 (from April 2024 to March 2026) who applies for withdrawal at the end of July 2025, we calculate the second-year tuition fees as 640,000 yen, and the monthly fee as 53,000 yen. The fourth month after the end of July 2025 = Remaining tuition fees from November 2025 to the graduation – amount will be 265,000 yen. From 265,000 yen, we will be deducting 20% and total amount 212,000yen will be refunded to you.

B.Cases where Tuition fees can't be refunded.

1.If a student withdraws in less than one year after enrollment, regardless of the reason, tuition fees will not be refunded.

2.If a student applies for withdrawal after December of the second year, there won't be refundable amount according to the above regulations.

3.In the case of expulsion, including tuition and other fees, no payments will be refunded

4.The "Facility and Teaching Material Fees" for the second year will not be refunded.

C.Other cases

- Bank transfer fees related to tuition refunds will be borne by the student.
- Disaster insurance premiums cannot be refunded as they are part of a group policy.
